Step 2: Go to „Authenticate or login to Download“.

The screenshot shows the De Gruyter website interface for the book "Sensing the City". At the top, there is a search bar with "degruyter.com durchsuchen" and a search icon. To the right, there are currency and language settings (€ EUR, DE) and a shopping cart icon. The main content area features the book cover for "Sensing the City: A Companion to Urban Anthropology" by Anja Schwanhäuser, published by Birkhäuser in 2021. The cover image shows a modern urban structure. Below the cover, there are buttons for "Zitieren" and "Citations" (4). The page is divided into "ÜBERSICHT" and "INHALT" tabs. A red circle highlights the "Authenticate or login to Download" button in the top right corner. Below this, there are options for "PDF 29,95 €" and "Paperback 29,95 €", along with a "Buy Book" button. On the right side, there is a metadata section: "Sprache: Englisch", "Verlag: Birkhäuser", "Copyrightjahr: 2021", "Zielgruppe: Architects, urban researchers, anthropologists", "Seiten: Inhalt: 192", and "Abbildungen". At the bottom left, there is a section titled "Über dieses Buch" with the subtitle "Das Leben in der Stadt erforschen".

Step 3: Search for „hft“ or „Hochschule für Technik Stuttgart“ and click the link.

The screenshot shows the De Gruyter login page. At the top left, there is the De Gruyter logo and the text "DE GRUYTER". The page is divided into three main sections. The first section, "Find your institution", contains a search bar with "hft" entered and a "Find" button. A red circle highlights the search bar and the "Find" button. Below the search bar, there is a dropdown menu showing "Hochschule für Technik Stuttgart". The second section, "Registered? Log in here...", contains a text box for "Email", a text box for "Password", a "Forgot your password?" link, a "Remember me" checkbox, and a "Login" button. The third section, "Got a passcode?", contains a text box for "Passcode" and a "Go" button.

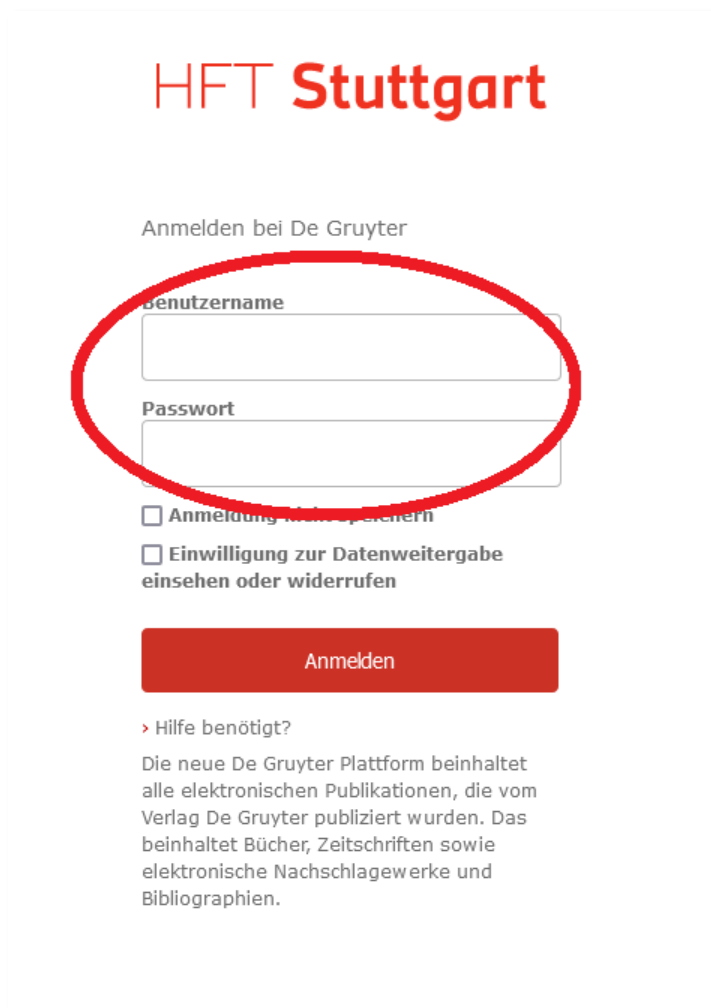

Step 4: Go to „Login“.

The screenshot shows the De Gruyter login interface. At the top left is the 'DE GRUYTER' logo. The main content area is divided into four sections:

- Find your institution: A search box with a magnifying glass icon and a 'Find' button. Below it, a message states: "You chose Hochschule für Technik Stuttgart, but you can search for a different institution if you made a mistake."
- Hochschule für Technik Stuttgart: A link to the institution, with a red circle around it. Below the link is a green 'Login' button.
- Registered? Log in here...: A section for existing users, with a note: "Log in into your account to access content by entering your mail address and password. Please note: you have to reset your password if you registered before February 2020. If you had an account which did not give you access to content before, please register a new account."
- Got a passcode?: A section for users with a passcode, with a 'Passcode' input field and a 'Go' button.

Step 5: Login with your HFT access data.

The screenshot shows the HFT Stuttgart login page. At the top is the 'HFT Stuttgart' logo. Below it is the heading 'Anmelden bei De Gruyter'. The login form consists of:

- A red circle around the 'Benutzername' (Username) input field.
- A 'Passwort' (Password) input field.
- Two checkboxes: 'Anmeldung mit OpenID' and 'Einwilligung zur Datenweitergabe einsehen oder widerrufen'.
- A red 'Anmelden' button.
- A link: '> Hilfe benötigt?'.
- A paragraph of text: "Die neue De Gruyter Plattform beinhaltet alle elektronischen Publikationen, die vom Verlag De Gruyter publiziert wurden. Das beinhaltet Bücher, Zeitschriften sowie elektronische Nachschlagewerke und Bibliographien."

Step 6: The access via your institution is now activated. You can download whole e-book or its separate chapters (in “Contents”), or read it.

The screenshot shows the De Gruyter website interface. At the top, there is a search bar and navigation options for currency (EUR), language (EN), and a shopping cart icon. The main content area features the book cover for "Sensing the City: A Companion to Urban Anthropology" edited by Anja Schwanhäußler. The book is published by Birkhäuser in 2021 and is part of the "Bauwelt Fundamente" series. A red circle highlights the "Download book (PDF)" button in the top right corner. Below the book title, there are tabs for "OVERVIEW" and "CONTENTS". The "CONTENTS" tab is active, showing a table of contents with three entries: "Frontmatter" (page 1), "Contents" (page 5), and "Prologue. Learning to Observe in Chicago" (page 7). A red circle highlights the "Download PDF" button next to the "Contents" entry. On the right side, there is a sidebar with additional information: "Access brought to you by Hochschule für Technik Stuttgart", language (English), publisher (Birkhäuser), copyright year (2021), audience (Architects, urban researchers, anthropologists), pages (192), and illustrations (30). Below this, there are sections for "eBook" and "Paperback" with their respective publication dates and ISBNs. At the bottom of the sidebar, there is a search bar for books.

If you have any questions, contact the HFT library via e-mail or by telephone.

Good luck with the research!
